The Glutathione Revolution

by Dr. Nayan Patel

Glutathione is a disease-fighting, age-slowng, energy-enhancing, detoxing, and beatifying antioxidant that you probably never heard of - so I'm very excited to introduce you to The Glutathione Revolution!

"... I'm grateful that in this book pharmacist and researcher Nayan Patel is not only bringing Glutathione to wider attention, he is also helping us understand how it works, where the GSH research has been— and where it's heading— and most important, how we can get more of it."

— Dr. Mark Hyman

*"Dr. Patel is a thought leader and has dedicated his career to focusing on ways to reduce the long-term impact of stress on the body. His new book, The Glutathione Revolution, is informative and life changing as it explores how GSH holds the key to immunity and lifelong health"*

— Tony Robbins

Glutathione

Glutathione (GSH) is known as the master antioxidant and it is produced naturally in our bodies. GSH is a crucial element of our body's detoxification process and protects cells from oxidative stress. Some roles GSH plays in your body:

Increases
Energy

Supports Liver Health
& Detoxification

Boosts Immune
Function

Improves Sleep

Improves Athletic Performance &
Speeds Recovery

WHY CONSIDER SUPPLEMENTATION

Our bodies produce Glutathione naturally, but as we age our ability to produce the molecule decreases significantly. Consequently, as we age we are exposed to an abundance of toxins and stressors, and our body is in constant need for Glutathione to detoxify and expel these chemical and physical toxins. When there is an imbalance of GSH and toxins, our body experiences oxidative stress.

Some health issues that can be linked to high oxidative stress and low GSH Levels include:

- Chronic inflammatory disorders (asthma, autoimmune disease)
- Neurodegenerative disorders (Alzheimer's and Parkinson's)
- Skin problems (acne, rosacea, psoriasis)
- Heart Disease
- Oral, colorectal, and breast cancer

Glutaryl™, the patented antioxidant spray, delivers a highly absorbable form of reduced L-Glutathione utilizing groundbreaking subnano technology that allows the reduced Glutathione molecule to absorb into your skin. Glutaryl™ is the only transdermal Glutathione that effectively and efficiently increases levels in our body.

A. The innovative and patented design of the Auro GSH™ Antioxidant Delivery System protects Glutathione from oxidation and maintains its integrity during delivery to provide maximum potency. Glutathione is typically highly reactive to oxidation, making it difficult to stabilize but Auro's Glutaryl™ uniquely solves this challenge with a breakthrough preservation method so that its fullest effects can be achieved.

B. The Patented Auro GSH™ Technology uses a breakthrough sub-nano format which allows for a transdermal delivery of Glutathione. This allows Glutathione to be by-pass the digestive tract allowing better absorption.
